

FOR THOSE WHOSE H. PYLORI TEST RESULT USING URINE TEST IS POSITIVE OR UNDETERMINED (GUIDE FOR H. PYLORI SECOND EXAMINATION)

For those whose result in this H. pylori test is 「陽性 Positive」, means there is a possible infection of H. pylori.

The urine test is physically less burden and gives high accuracy but certain percentage of this turns false positive.

And so as the 「判定保留 Undetermined」, means the judgment is not accurate due to the condition of the urine.

For this reason, for those whose result is positive or undetermined, you need to take the second examination (Stool test) to confirm if infected with H. pylori or not.

You can take the second examination (Stool test) for FREE at any of the designated medical institution listed in the separate printout until March 31, 2026 only, so we highly recommend to let your child undergo medical exam to secure their health.

Please ask any of the designated medical institutions listed in the separate printout if you have any questions.
